CURICO • CENTRAL VALLE • CHILE • SOUTH AMERICA

TECHNICAL DETAILS

The Estate

In 1951, Vicente Aresti Astica acquired the Bellavista Estate in Curicó, a renowned winegrowing valley, and started building a family tradition of excellence in winemaking with passion at the core of their philosophy. The experience gained in making superior wines helped strengthen the presence of Aresti wines in Chile and around the world.

Wine Making

Curico was the wine region of choice for Spanish wine legend Miguel Torres when he began his foray into Chilean wine in 1979. Torres brought with him from Spain a number of winemaking techniques and technologies which have had a significant impact on the Chilean wine industry.
